Welcome to the 2026 Uffculme Show & Country Fayre.

The big day is finally here! After months of hard work and dedication, we're thrilled to welcome you to the Uffculme Show Association's second annual show in the gorgeous surroundings of Bridwell Park.

We've packed the lineup with fantastic entertainment designed for the whole family to enjoy.

This event is truly by the community, for the community, and it wouldn't happen without our incredible volunteers who gave their time to bring it all to life. We're also deeply grateful to our local business sponsors for their generous support—please show them some love whenever you can!

Have a wonderful, safe day looking out for one another. Best of all, every bit of profit raised today goes directly back into supporting local good causes. Have fun!

Chris Coopey

Chair, Uffculme Show Association

Staying Safe at the Show

The Uffculme Show & Country Fayre is a family event so your safety and that of everyone at the show is absolutely paramount.

- Do dress for the weather conditions on the day and make sure you have sun cream and plenty of water if the weather is hot.
- Be aware of guy ropes and other tripping hazards.
- Although vehicle movements are limited and supervised by marshals, please stand well clear whilst vehicles pass.
- The showground is relatively flat, but the surface can be uneven so take care and wear appropriate footwear.
- If you see a fire call 999 and let a marshal know.
- The Lake at Bridwell is deep and out of bounds. Stay away.
- Please make sure you know where your children are and keep them under control. Lost children should be reported to a marshal
- Please do not bring glass, drugs or alcohol onto the showground.
- Only alcohol bought at the event can be consumed on the showground. The taking and/or selling of drugs on the site is strictly prohibited and will be reported.
- The organisers reserve the right to eject, without refund, anyone found to be buying alcohol for those under 18, or anyone found under the influence of drugs or alcohol or behaving aggressively or otherwise inappropriately.
- We welcome well behaved dogs and their owners. Dog owners should be aware that there there may be sudden noises in the Main Ring and elsewhere. Dogs must be kept on a lead and under close control at all times. Dog breeds and types banned under the Dangerous Dogs Act are not permitted at the showground.
- In the unlikely event of a firearms or weapons attack remember the government advice. Run, Hide, Tell. Run to a place of safety. If there is nowhere to go then Hide. It's better to hide than confront. Tell - call the Police on 999 and report the incident.

Please report anything concerning to the marshals who will be in hi-vis jackets. They will know what to do.

Keeping your child safe...

Please do not leave your children unattended at any time during the event. Bridwell Park, whilst a beautiful space, does have a lake which could be hazardous to small children. There may also be some vehicle movements on site during the day, so do keep your eyes open. For smaller children, please use the security bands provided at the gate. Just write your contact details (as parent or guardian) on the band and secure it on their wrist.

If your child gets lost, our marshals and safeguarding lead will take them to our First Aid Area in the centre of the showground where procedures are in place to reunite them with you. Listen out for announcements on the P.A. and if concerned, look out for a marshal who will be wearing hi-vis with the show's logo on the back. They are equipped with radios and will be delighted to help you with any concerns.

Watching the weather....

Take sensible precautions whatever the weather. Dress appropriately and watch out for extremes – if the weather is very sunny, make sure you have sun protection for the little ones (and yourself) and drink plenty of water.

If the weather isn't so nice, wrap up appropriately and don wellies if necessary! Watch out, the ground may become muddy and slippery if the a show is particularly lengthy.

Hitchcocks, Langlands and Willand Road Business Parks

continue to play a vital role in Mid Devon's business community, providing well-managed industrial, workshop, storage and yard accommodation for companies of all sizes. Family owned and locally based, Hitchcocks is proud to be hands-on, investing in its estates and supporting occupiers as they grow, relocate and create employment across the area. Across the three parks there is now a broad mix of independent, regional, national and international businesses, with around 90 occupiers and more than 1,000 people working on site.

Recent successes include further letting activity at Langlands, including Unit G2 to LMY Limited and Unit Q to Superstar Training Club alongside strong demand for space at Hitchcocks and Willand Road from existing and new occupiers. These lettings show continued confidence in the location, close to Junction 27 of the M5 and well placed for local, regional and national distribution. The wider benefit is felt beyond the business parks themselves, with occupiers using local suppliers, supporting local jobs and bringing regular trade to nearby services, and helping the local economy remain resilient year-round.

Hitchcocks remains committed to providing practical workspace, secure sites, responsive estate management and a positive environment where local enterprise can thrive.

Classic & Vintage Cars at the Uffculme Show

Classic and vintage car collecting in Britain is about far more than owning an old car — it is a way of preserving motoring history and you can certainly see a fair variety of that history here at the Uffculme Show! The Federation of British Historic Vehicle Clubs (FBHVC) exists to uphold the freedom to use historic vehicles - of all types - on the road without restriction. It represents more than 550 organisations, whose total membership is over 250,000 people, plus individual and trade supporters, the FBHVC is the largest body of its kind in the world.

Unsurprisingly, Britain has one of the world's largest historic vehicle communities. Government research indicates that there are around **1.1 million vehicles in the UK historic vehicle tax class**, with about 600,000 currently licensed.

For collectors, originality can be hugely important. A car's history, previous owners, period modifications and restoration work can all add to its significance. The FIVA Identity Card records such details and can provide valuable evidence of a vehicle's provenance.

There are also some useful privileges. In Great Britain, vehicles over 40 years old can qualify for MOT exemption if they have not been substantially changed in the previous 30 years. From April 2026, vehicles built before 1 January 1986 can also qualify for the historic vehicle tax class.

Perhaps most importantly, every classic car tells a story — of (often) British engineering, changing fashions, social history and the way we once travelled!

Classic Tractors at the Uffculme Show

The mechanisation of British farming accelerated rapidly during the early 20th century, replacing draft horses with internal combustion power to boost food production through two World Wars.

Key producers and iconic brands sold across the UK include: Fordson / Ford: Mass-produced initially in Cork and later in Dagenham and Basildon, models like the Fordson Major dominated mid-century British fields.

Ferguson / Massey Ferguson: Built in Coventry, Irish inventor Harry Ferguson revolutionized global farming with his hydraulic three-point linkage system.

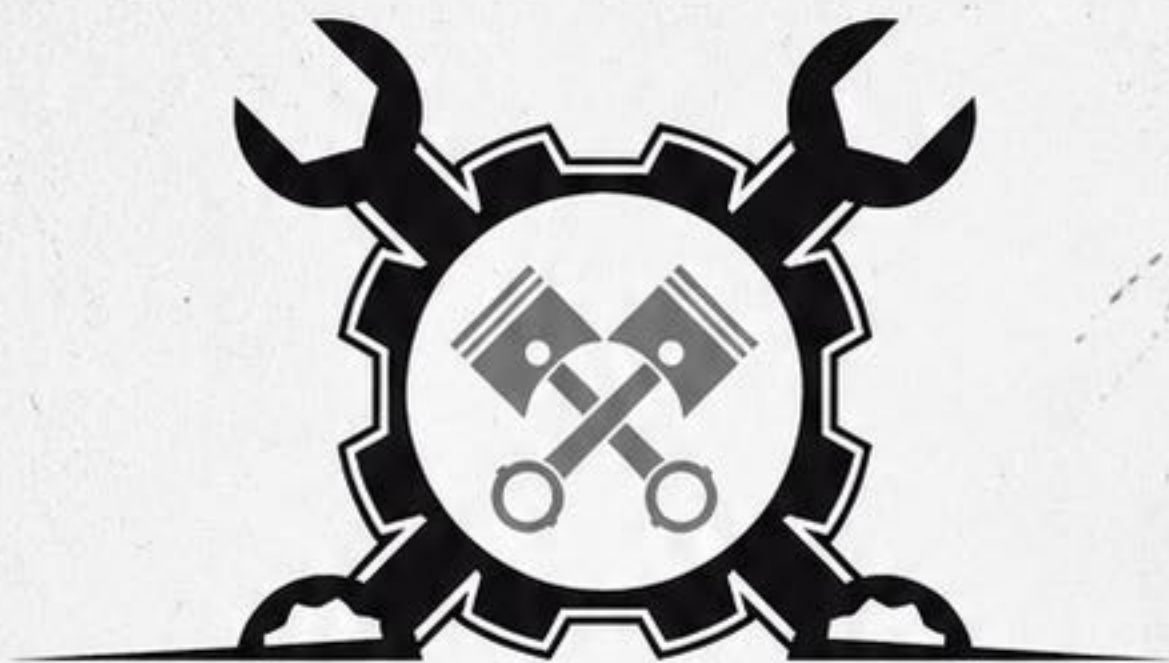

The TE20 ("Little Grey Fergie - pictured") and MF135 became British agricultural legends.

David Brown: Operating out of Yorkshire, this engineering pioneer produced widely popular models like the VAK1 and Implematic series.

Nuffield / Leyland & Marshall: Formed by Lord Nuffield (Morris Motors), Nuffield supplied rugged British tractors later rebranded as Leyland, while Lincolnshire's Field Marshall offered simple single-cylinder diesels.

Today, global giants like Massey Ferguson, New Holland (descended from Fordson), John Deere, and Case IH remain staples of UK agriculture.

Stationary Engines - read the history, enjoy the display!

Before the widespread adoption of electricity, stationary engines powered Britain's factories, mines, and farms. Evolving from massive 18th-century steam beam engines pioneered by Thomas Newcomen and James Watt, these fixed powerplants transitioned to compact petrol, paraffin, and diesel designs by the late 19th century.

Britain became a global hub for stationary engine manufacturing, giving rise to several iconic brands:

R.A. Lister & Co: Famous for the ubiquitous Lister D-Type and the legendary Lister CS diesel, famed for running reliably for decades.

Petters Limited: Produced popular lightweight agricultural engines, eventually merging with their chief competitor to form Lister Petter in 1986.

Crossley Brothers: Early pioneers who secured UK rights to Nikolaus Otto's patents, manufacturing heavy gas and oil engines for workshops and utilities.

Ruston & Hornsby: Dominant producers of large horizontal oil engines used for heavy municipal pumping and power generation.

Blackstone & Co.: Celebrated for their heavy-duty, slow-speed horizontal diesels that drove agricultural grain mills.

Although the growth of the National Grid phased out these mechanical workhorses, thousands survive today. Lovingly maintained by enthusiasts, their rhythmic "thump-thump" remains a popular staple at vintage rallies across the UK.
